'The House of a Thousand Candles.'

The story of the haunted House of a Thousand Candles abounds with interest. Although the plot revolves around its principal characters, yet the mysterious house is always foremost. The auditor never loses sight of the fact that there is something unknowable about its rooms, that in its walls lie the deepest of hidden mysteries, and that some unforeseen phenomenon will mark the great climax of the play. This is, in fact, what does happen. Just as the house is being attacked by a mob, when an immense fortune is about to be lost, there is a tremendous crash, a bolt of lightning smashes a panel in the room and in a blinding siare the spirit of the person of Glenarm appears. This in a blinding glare the spirit of person of Glenarm appears. This verful situation brings to a close of the most intense acts seen on stake in recent years. The House a Thousand Candles will be preted with its complete accessories the Broadway theater on Wednesthe stage in recent years. 'The Hand Organ Man," Brilliant Story of Little Italy.

of the varying emotions of a Bohemi-in existence is shown at the Breed an existence is shown at the Breed theater this week, under the title of The Hand Organ Man, and is weirdly fascinating in its novelty of plot, and to aid to its accuracy in portrayal, a hand organ is used in the orchestra, arrying out the atmosphere to perfection. The poor organ grinder, is befriended by the child of a wealthy italian banker, and upon teiling of the incident upon his return home is overheard by some of the villains in his locality, who plot to steal the child and hold her for ransom. The plot is carried out, and the stolen child brought to the tenement where the befriended organ grinder is living. He recognizes the child at once, and secretly hurries to the home of the parents, and bringing detectives, descend nts, and bringing detectives, descend ents, and bringing detectives, descend upon the gang, who put up a terrified light, but are overpowered and carried off to jail. This is one of the most powerful and novel pictures seen at the Breed theater this season and was a hit at each performance. The balance of the programme is up to the high standing of the house and Miss Wolcott was well received in the opera of The Geisffa, entitled The Jewel of Asia, winning a well-merited encore

Special Service for Masons at Methodist Church.

Miss Florence Stirling has returned rom a few days' visit in Huntington. Mrs. Robert Stowe of Greenfield, Mass., is visiting Baltic friends.

Mrs. Bond returned to Norwich on Monday, after a week's stay with Mrs.

Burdick.
Mr. and Mrs. Robert Generous of Turnerville are guests of Mrs. Generous' mother, Mrs. Stubbs.

At the Baltic Methodist Episcopal church the Sunday evening service was arranged with special reference to Masons. The body of the church was reserved for them, each was pre-sented a white carnation as he enreserved for them, each was pre-sented a white carnation as he en-ered. Jewett City, Plainfield, Tatt-ille and Willimantic were represent-ed in the audience. Rev. Mr. Smith raced the first order of Masons to the oullding of Solomon's temple. After the service lunch was served at the home of Mrs. John Stevens. The order of service was as follows:
Hymn, Crown Him Lord of All; solo, In the Realms of Eternity, James Royall: Scripture reading; solo, Rock of Ages, Miss Thomas of Versailles; prayer, Rev. Mr. Ayer of Franklin; anthem, choir; sermon, Building the Temple, Rev. Mr. Smith; hymn, Blest Be the Tie That Binds. ome of Mrs. John Stevens. The or-

Hallowe'en Surprise Party at Lisbon. Station Agent and Mrs. Ernest Blake of Lisbon were agreeably surprised Saturday afternoon and evening by twenty-five friends and relatives, coming by train, team and trolley, bringing with them refreshments of chicken and ham sandwiches, cakes, fruit and sweetmeats. They presented their host and hostess a fine parlor clock. During the avening there was vocal and instrumental music and games were played and much merriment was prompted by a game called ment was prompted by a game called Beasts, Birds and Fish. for heart and votce would fall me.
And foolish tears would flow;
for bygone hours come o'er the heart,
With each famillar strain.
cannot sing the old songs.
Or dream those dreams again;
cannot sing the old songs.
Or dream those dreams again.

Cannot sing the old songs. Their charm is sad and deer

I cannot sing the old songs.
For visions come again
Of golden dreams departed
And years of weary pain.
Perhaps when earthly fetters shall
Have set my spirit free.
My voice may know the old songs.
For all eternity:
My voice may know the old songs,
For all eternity.

A man went in the ana to swim.
To have a briny lark,
But there a meal was made of him
By some voranious shark.
And now his wife won't touch a dish
At dinner if it's labeled "nah."
